Mother's Day which we celebrate every year comes this year May 9, which is Sunday and it is a day set apart for us to honor Mothers living and mothers dead, the custom is to "wear a bright flower for Mother living and a white flower for Mother dead," and also that she be remembered by a gift or letter on this day or by flowers on her grave if not here. The following poem, though not new has come to my hands and I print it for others to read and enjoy.

"MOTHER"

There was never a heart like mother's,
so tender and loving and true,
There was never a love like mother's unselfish, refreshing as dew,
There was never a touch like mother's,
to smooth all ills and pains,
There was never an arm like mother's to fold us to heart again.
There was never a care like mother's to keep us from every foe,
There was never a song like mother's to soothe our every woe,
There was never a smile like mother's to cheer and guide us aright
There was never an eye like mother's so watchful and lovely and bright,
There was never a face like mother's with its radiant, beautiful smile,
There was never a look like mother's all sorrows to ease and beguile,
There was never a prayer like mother's to touch our very soul;
There was never a faith like mother's that we'd reach the heavenly goal.
There was never a hand like mother's to guide our wilful feet,
There was never a soul like mother's to sit at the mercy seat;
And there we'll find her waiting to take us to her heart,
When our earthly life is ended,
and then no more we'll part.

(A. P. WAGONER.)

By request I am also printing the following piece which many of my readers know already:

"MY MOTHER"

We read about the mothers of the days of long ago,
With their gentle wrinkled faces and hair as white as snow;
They were "muddled aged" at forty,
and at fifty donned lace caps,
And at sixty clung to shoulder shawls and loved their little naps.
But I love the modern mother who can share in all the joys,
And understands the problems of her growing girls and boys
She may boast that she is sixty, but her heart is twenty three—
My glorious, bright eyed mother who is keeping young with me.

IRRITABLE NERVOUS

Was Condition of Indiana Lady Before Beginning to Take Card-u-i, the Woman's Tonic.

Kokomo, Ind.—Mrs. H. Hankemeier, of this town, says: "I look so well, and am so well, that it does not seem as if I ever needed Cardui. But I was not always this way... I think I have taken a dozen bottles... before my little girl came."

I was feeling dreadfully bad, had headache, backache, sick at my stomach, no energy... I was very irritable, too, and nervous.

I began taking Cardui about 6 months before my baby came. As a result all those bad feelings left me, and I just felt grand, just as if nothing at all was the matter, and when the end came I was hardly sick at all.

Since that I have never taken Cardui at all... It has done me good, and I know it will help others, if they will only try it."

Many women have written grateful letters like the above, telling of the good that Cardui has done them. Why should it not help you, too? If you suffer from any of the ailments so common to women, and feel the need of a safe, reliable, strengthening tonic, we urge you to begin today and give Cardui a fair trial. How Firestone Is Able to Produce the Finest Laminated Inner Tube and Still Hold to a Moderate Price

Firestone Man Power: Firestone has gathered together a remarkable body of workers, 17,000 strong — many of them stockholders in the Company. Men financially interested in the success of their product do better work.

Firestone Buying Power: Firestone has established purchasing headquarters at Singapore in the Straits Settlement where 85% of the world's rubber is produced. Thus Firestone gets first choice of the raw product at quantity prices. And this saving is turned back to car owners.

Firestone Selling Power — Firestone's immense production requires a widespread distribution system. Sixty-five branches and 46,000 dealers throughout the United States selling Firestone Tubes assure a fast-moving product, which means fresh stock at all times—most miles per dollar in tubes as well as tires.
